THE SKIN DOCTOR IS IN

Pigmentation maladies like patchy melasma and unsightly freckles can be treated more effectively via a tag team of medical expertise and Derma-Rx formulated products.

Many women tend to rely on the market's bestselling over-the-counter products to rectify common skin conditions such as pigmentation. But just as you head to the doctor's clinic when you're feeling a little under the weather, why not consider receiving a medical skincare consultation when your complexion needs a little boost to regain its glow and youthfulness?

When you visit a Derma-Rx-affiliated clinic, you put the health of your skin in the best hands possible – doctors trained in the field of aesthetic medicine. On top of expert diagnosis and advice, you'll receive a tailored prescription of Derma-Rx skincare products to address your skincare needs more quickly and cost-effectively. This is because your need to try several market bestsellers till you determine one that suits you best is eliminated.

Every woman's skincare needs are different, so why depend on a one-size-fits-all product which may not guarantee 100 per cent consumer satisfaction, or success? Re-evaluate your beauty regime today, and find out more about the Derma-Rx experience at www.derma-rx.com.

TAKE FIVE Derma-Rx products work like medicine for the skin. Experience how they can synergistically control and reverse the effects of pigmentation.

FOAMING CLEANSER

Its blend of marine and algae extracts provide gentle exfoliation and a brightening effect.

TONER

Glycolic and salicylic acid and all-natural camomile and cucumber extracts soothe the skin for a cool after-feel.

ARBUTIN-R CREAM

Skin-lightening agents arbutin and lactic acid, and melanin production-inhibiting mulberry extract target uneven pigmentation.

REJUVENATOR

Marine extracts, vitamins and minerals moisturise, protect and stimulate cell renewal for improved skin texture.

TINTED SUNSCREEN SPF 30+

Enjoy full protection against harmful UVA and UVB rays, thanks to an advanced formulation.

Skincare Solutions Redefined

Manufactured mainly in the United States, the Derma-Rx skincare line comprises a stellar range of pharmaceutical-grade products designed to work synergistically to treat a variety of skin conditions. For more information, visit www.derma-rx.com or call 6223-9555 for a Derma-Rx affiliated clinic near you.
